1. NEWTRON portal

The portal is the central management point for supplier management. You can view supplier files, suppliers can register here unsolicited via a link on your website, or you can quickly and easily create new suppliers and start the registration process via contact management.

2. Supplier registration & supplier qualification

The standard electronic questionnaire (supplier information), the downstream automated categorization and the examination and approval process allows you to quickly and easily include suppliers in your supplier pool, whether this involves unsolicited applications by suppliers or active invitations by your department.

3. Supplier file

The supplier file gives you an overview of all the activities of the respective suppliers. The reminder feature for data updating and the certification reminder (ISO 9001, ISO 14001, ISO/ TS 16949) ensure that you always have the most up-to-date information about your suppliers. Using the export feature (Excel), you can make your supplier data clearly accessible even to non-users. As a central repository for all information, the supplier file is your tool for effective monitoring of the entire business relationship.

4. Supplier evaluation

Evaluate your suppliers periodically or ad hoc according to criteria such as price, quality, service or sustainability. You decide what is important in a business relationship! The comprehensive evaluation shows exactly where the strengths and weaknesses of your suppliers lie and serves as a basis for deciding whether it is worth developing a supplier or it is better to cut them loose. What if you sometimes forget an evaluation deadline? No problem. The reminder feature will warn you ahead of time of a pending evaluation.

6. Complaint management (optional)

The multi-level complaint-management process gives you the ability to competently manage complaints including remediation measures. To ensure that a complaint between you and a supplier can be handled quickly, the status information will show you where you are in the process. And reminder features ensure that the tasks are processed quickly on both sides.

7. Documentation management (optional)

Using the documentation-management feature, you can request special certificates and particular documents directly from your suppliers. These materials will then be added to NEWTRON SRM and automatically assigned to the supplier file.

The benefits to you:

- Concise summary of all relevant supplier data
- Accelerated processes and workflows through uniform structure
- Transparency of supplier relationship
- Data updates through integrated reminder feature
- Reduction in process costs by freeing up resources
- Quality improvement
